LESSON STAGES
Aim	Procedure	Interaction
To welcome students and set expectations for the summer course.	• Welcome: T welcomes students and introduces the intensive summer course structure. • Project Intro: T introduces the 'Mumu' 5-lesson project. • Engagement: Brief Q&A about summer goals.	T-Ss
To establish student baseline writing levels and diagnostic assessment.	• Task: Ss write a creative story (approx. 75 words) based on a specific prompt. • Procedure: T sets timer for 10-12 minutes. Ss work silently. • Assessment: T monitors and notes common errors or strengths for individual diagnostic profile.	S
To activate schemata about the setting and historical context of 1800s Russia.	• Character Videos: Class watches 3 short videos of characters from the Mumu tale: Gerasim (the Giant), Mumu the Dog, and the rich lady. • Visual 2: T shows a series of images from 'Mumu' showing events leading to the climax. • Elicitation: T elicits vocabulary related to setting (countryside, peasants, master).	T-Ss
To practice predicting sub-skills based on visual evidence.	• Group Work: In small groups, Ss discuss the images and video. • Guiding Question: What do you think happens in this story? Is it a happy or sad story? • Peer Exchange: Groups share their theories with the class.	Ss-Ss
To practice fluency and reading aloud in a supportive group environment.	• Circle Setting: Ss arrange chairs in a class circle. • Reading: T starts reading the abridged 'Mumu' story. Ss take turns reading one or two sentences aloud. • Support: T helps with pronunciation only when requested; no formal vocab pre-teaching. • Cliffhanger: T stops reading before the climax; students are told the ending is withheld.	Ss-Ss
To personalize the topic and gauge	• Discussion: Ss discuss their initial feelings about Gerasim and the Mumu dog.	T-Ss initial emotional reactions to the narrative.	• Prediction Check: How close were your original guesses to the text we read? • Homework/Segue: Students are told they will write the ending themselves in the next lesson.
