Teacher:	Ed Rush	Date:	04-03-2026
CEFR Level:	B1	Duration:	45 Minutes
Lesson Shape:	F (Productive Skills)	Assessment:	Draft Completion
Main Focus:	Writing	Materials:	OFD3 Unit 4 Writing, WB p. 41

Main Aim: By the end of the lesson, learners will be better able to write a description of someone they admire, using attitude adverbs and supporting their opinions with specific facts and real-life examples.

Differentiated Input

Pedagogical Rationale: Differentiated Input & Learner Autonomy

During the drafting stage (Stage 4), supported learners will focus on using at least three attitude adverbs (e.g., Amazingly, Clearly) and two supporting facts.

Advanced learners will be challenged to integrate complex sentence structures, such as relative clauses, to connect their opinions to the evidence provided in their 225-word draft.

	'admirable' figures.	• Feedback: T elicits adjectives to the board and asks: "Who is someone YOU admire? Why?" Elicit
STAGE TWO: Preparation
10 Min	To brainstorm and plan the content of the description.	• Planning (Worksheet Task 1 / Workbook Task 4 & 5): Ss select their specific person to admire and make notes in their WB (Task 5) on why they admire them. Indiv • Fact Mapping (Worksheet Task 1 / Workbook Task 6): Ss identify at least two specific facts or achievements from the person's life that support their opinion. T monitors and provides target vocabulary for their subjects. Indiv	Indiv
STAGE THREE: Preparation
10 Min	To introduce the 'Supporting your opinion' strategy and 'Attitude Adverbs' focus.	• Strategy Focus (Worksheet Header / Workbook Task 6): T presents the "Writing Strategy: Supporting your opinion." Ss discuss why facts and examples are better than just opinions. T-Ss / Ss-Ss • Language Input (Worksheet Task 2 / Workbook Task 7): T introduces six key attitude adverbs from the slideshow (Amazingly, Surprisingly, Remarkably, Fortunately, Clearly, Generously). T-Ss • Mini-task: Ss transform simple sentences into "attitude" sentences (e.g., "He won the race" -> "Remarkably, he won the race"). T checks meaning and models word stress (re-MARK-ab-ly). Elicit / CCQ	T-Ss / Indiv
STAGE FOUR: Task
19 Min	To produce the 225-word first draft using the models and language from Stages 2-3.	• Drafting (Worksheet Task 3 / Workbook Task 8): Ss write their first draft of the description (approx. 225 words). T starts a 15-minute timer on the slideshow. Indiv • Monitoring: T circulates to check for the active inclusion of attitude adverbs (Task 7) and supporting facts (Task 6). T-Ss • Wrap-up: Ss read their "Closing Statement" aloud to a partner to check for a strong finish. Ss-Ss	Indiv / Ss-Ss
